

Academic General Internists: Clinician-Scientist

Queen's Department of Medicine, Section of General Internal Medicine (GIM), is seeking a qualified General Internist to join our growing group. Faculty will provide inpatient care on the Clinical Teaching Units, supervising and teaching Queen's medical students and residents. Applicants should have an interest in Medical Education and/or Research with a preference being given to candidates with a Masters Degree or higher in Medical Education or Clinical Epidemiology. Experience with ICES or other large databases would be considered an asset. The successful candidate will be responsible for leading a program in clinical research at Queen's University. In addition, there will be a focus of providing exemplary clinical service and the successful applicant must demonstrate strong potential for teaching at both the undergraduate and postgraduate level.

Members of the Department of Medicine enjoy a competitive compensation package, including a generous benefit plan. Academic rank will be commensurate with experience.

Candidates must be eligible for licensure by the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario. Preference will be given to those who either hold or are eligible for certification by the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada in Internal Medicine.

One of Canada's leading universities, Queen's has a long reputation for academic excellence, research, and a diverse and vibrant learning environment. With its strong tradition of public service, the University has helped to shape Canadian values and policies, educating notable political and cultural figures. Queen's is located in the heart of the community in historic Kingston, midpoint between Montreal, Toronto and Ottawa, the nation's capital.

Applications are to include a letter summarizing expertise, qualifications and accomplishments relevant to the position together with a curriculum vitae, biography and the names and full contact information of three referees. The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Queen's is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, racialized/visible minorities, Indigenous/Aboriginal peoples, persons with disabilities, and LGBTQ+ persons. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, in accordance with Canadian immigration requirements, Canadian citizens and permanent residents of Canada will be given priority.

To comply with federal laws, the University is obliged to gather statistical information as to how many applicants for each job vacancy are Canadian citizens / permanent residents of Canada. Applicants need not identify their country of origin or citizenship; however, all applications must include one of the following statements: "I am a Canadian citizen / permanent resident of Canada"; OR, "I am not a Canadian citizen / permanent resident of Canada". Applications that do not include this information will be deemed incomplete. Complete applications are to be directed to: Dr. S.L. Archer, Professor and Head, Department of Medicine, c/o Jennifer Andersen, Etherington Hall, 94 Stuart Street, Kingston, Ontario K7L 3N6. Email: jennifer.andersen@queensu.ca.

The University will provide support in its recruitment processes to applicants with disabilities, including accommodation that takes into account an applicant's accessibility needs. If you require accommodation during the interview process, please contact: Mrs. Jennifer Andersen via email at jennifer.andersen@queensu.ca or via phone at 613-533-6000 ext 77765.

Review of applications will commence immediately and will continue until the position is filled.
